Out of a need to develop character and integrity with their daughters the Mothers and Daughters Program was birthed by women in the Postal Service. This mentorship program consisted of monthly meetings, arts and crafts, field trips and heartfull discussions about life issues.

After many years of character building Mothers and Daughters merged with Live for Life another program that focuses on mentoring with emphasis on HIV Aids Awareness and female responsibility. We have been mentoring between 25-30 young ladies on a monthly basis through 3D Dance Company and now the Salvation Army Shelter Worthy Womens Program.

Mae's desire is to see young ladies fulfilling their dreams and gifts. Through her life struggles she shares inspiration, and motivational approaches to life's challenges. As a result she has witnessed several ladies develop a greater desire to achieve positive results as well as create the goals necessary to set a path for a successful career.
